VOLUME 44 | COVINA, CALIFORNIA, AUGUST 23, 1929 | No. 34

COVINA CITY FUNDS ARE INCREASING

TREASURY GAINS ARE SHOWN THRU BOND SALES AND WATER SUPPLY

Covina is attracting attention from financial groups just now on account of the excellent condition of its treasury, and the rejection of numerous bids to buy building bonds for the city hall. As a matter of fact, the entire bond issue has been absorbed by funds in the sewer department arising from proceeds from the sale of the sewer farm and bond money voted several years ago. This means that the interest on the bonds will be paid back into the city treasury, instead of to outside corporations.

The water department is also a source of gratification. With the water from the flow of the two wells, eighty inches from the park well and fifty-five inches from the Grand avenue well, the city has a source of supply for double its present population, as compared to the twenty-three inches obtainable from the San Gabriel river, thru contract with the Covina Irrigating company previous to the drilling of the wells. The stock owned by the city in the Covina Irrigating company is now being sold to ranchers.

These wells, altho sunk at a cost of approximately $26,500, are bringing in a revenue of 6 per cent on the investment over and above the cost of maintenance and enlargement of lines. And this, notwithstanding the fact that the water to the consummer has been increased from 800 cubic feet to 1200 cubic feet per minimum charge of $1.25. This department has been under the efficient management of Trustee Laycock during the period of development.

Business Women Plan to Attend State Conclave

Keen interest is being manifested among the members of the Business and Professional Women's club in the coming state convention, to be held in Pasadena on September 5th, 6th and 7th. Miss Marian Tillman has been elected delegate, with Mrs. Mary R. Forbes, alternate.

The convention headquarters are at Hotel Huntington, with all sessions free outside of a $1 registration fee. Prices and reservations for banquets may be had from Virgie Wilson, president.

The convention opens Thursday with a barbecue luncheon and free swim at the swimming pool. Prominent fedration women will appear on the afternoon program. A reception will be held at the Community Playhouse in the evening, and regular admission prices will be charged to a musical comedy to be given by the players.

On Friday, designated as California day, winners of beauty contests and photographic contests will be announced at the noon luncheon. Miss Tillman will represent the Covina club in the beauty contest. There will be a lecture on photography in the morning and the convention address in the afternoon. A "Gay Nineties" costume banquet will be held in the evening.

Saturday morning will be devoted to business, followed by a musical luncheon at noon. The formal banquet will be held in the evening. Drives around the city and a trip to Mt. Wilson on Sunday have been planned by the hostess club.

King Tut's Playmates At Los Angeles County Fair

By C. N. P. A. Service

The spirit of the 1929 Los Angeles County Fair which opens in Pomona, September 17, and continues through Sunday, September 28, is being portrayed by Miss Louise Geotzman (left) and Miss Helen Taylor, with "King Tut," beautiful Palomeno horse, one of the many to take part in the brilliant night horse show.

Wright District Manager of New Telephone Area

Rumor, somewhat prevalent in southern California, that the telephone companies, including the upper San Gabriel valley group, had been sold again, is completely unfounded in fact, according to a statement yesterday by Frank H. Wright of Covina, new district manager for the San Bernardino and Covina areas. This rumor has been caused by a change in name, he said, as the Home Telephone company of Covina, Baldwin Park, Azusa, Glendora and Puente is now a part of The Associated Telephone Co.

Eighteen months ago the stockholders of the Home Telephone Company of Covina sold their holdings to the Associated Telephone Utilities company. This company had purchased the stock in five other companies, including Long Beach, Santa Monica, Laguna, Redondo, and Huntington Beach. The company organized a California corporation, under the name of The Associated Telephone company, with offices at 714 West Tenth street, Los Angeles. The company has divided the holdings into three districts, and Manager Frank Wright, who is just completing his twenty-first year as manager of the Covina group, has been made district manager of San Bernardino, the Covina group and Lake Arrowhead, comprising nearly 12,000 telephones. The main company, in the three districts, is operating about 70,000 phones.

E. W. Ramshaw, for a number of years plant manager in Covina, has been made district plant supervisor, and has moved to San Bernardino. H. H. Harrington, traffic manager for the Covina group, has been made traffic manager for the district.

The merger that has taken place in the last eighteen months makes an exceptionally strong company, with unlimited capital, making possible any needed expansion. While the stock held originally by investors in the upper San Gabriel valley was sold at the time of the merger, there is almost an equal amount of stock in the new company owned by people in the Covina valley, Mr. Wright said.

Covina Ladies Enjoy Trip Thru National Parks

Misses Mabel and Esther Funk returned Sunday evening from an interesting auto trip in company with Mrs. MacGarray, Miss Margaret MacGarry, and Miss Margaret Chamberlain of Santa Monica.

The ladies drove first thru the Sierra Nevada, stopping in the Mammoth lake country and Lake Tahoe. They remained over night in Elko, Nevada, going from there to Idaho Falls and West Yellowstone. Five days were spent in the various camps of the Yellowstone park.

One of the most beautiful and interesting parts of the trip was that of the Teton mountains, which was recently dedicated as a national park.

A week was spent in Glacier national park, from which point the travelers visited all the nearby points of interest, by saddle, car, and on foot. Iceberg lake, a lake filled with icebergs and surrounded by glaciers the year round, was one of the most wonderful sights of the trip, and one long hike was made accompanied by a guide, where the party climbed the glaciers, equipped with alpine staffs and tied together with ropes. The ice forests, caverns and other ice formations were beyond description, according to the party.

The return was made thru Spokane and down the Columbia river highway to Portland, down the Redwood highway to Oakland, where they visited with friends for a few days.

Tennis Tournament to Be Postponed

The Covina Tennis association has postponed the boys' tournament to be held at the city park until the last week in September. At that time a tournament will be held for boys under the age of fifteen. Boys whose fifteenth birthday comes after January 1st will also be eligible.

Last year the association held a successful tournament on the city park courts and aroused a great deal of interest among the young tennis players. Winners last year were Tom Rockwell in the singles and Carlton Pierson and Wallace Reed in the doubles. There is a possibility this year of having a tournament for the girls.

Giant Mail Plane Forced to Land at Baldwin Park

One of the giant Fokker planes used in transcontinental mail and passenger service, made a sensational forced landing Wednesday night between Baldwin Park and El Monte, landing right side up without injury to the plane or to the pilot and occupants.

While crossing the valley the engine began to fail, and finally "froze," according to the pilot's statement. He immediately began to throw out SOS flashes, which were seen by hundreds in the valley, but were not recognized as danger signals. It is understood that these flashes are used only when a forced landing is to be made.

The desert country near the big crusher west of Baldwin Park proved to be the pilot's best bet, and luck was with him in finding a reasonably level spot. Altho the plane was not damaged, it buried itself about half way in the sand, making necessary a crew of men and machinery to lift it from its bed.

The giant plane was carrying two thousand pounds of air mail and packages, one of the largest consignments for the past six months, officials said. Crowds gathered about the helpless plane, necessitating the keeping of a strict watch on the mail until it could be transferred by truck to the Western Air Express depot on the valley boulevard.

Mrs. O. C. Willoughby will entertain with a "round robin tea" at her Home on Howard street this (Friday) evening. The affair is being given for the members of the Rebekah lodge and their friends.

SWIM CONTEST PLANNED FOR CITY PLUNGE

PLAYGROUND DEPARTMENT TO HOLD COMPETITIVE TESTS FOR ALL AGES

The second swimming drive to be held at the Covina city plunge will begin Monday, August 26th. This campaign will be conducted similar to the Red Cross swim week which was held the last week of July, but will be conducted this time by the city plunge and playground department.

Classes are arranged practically the same and will be held daily for the week. The schedule runs 10-11 a.m. for girls (no age limit); 11-12 am., boys; 5-6 p.m., adults; 5-6 p.m., life saving. The classes will be divided among three instructors, Gertrude Rice, Frances Adams, and Edward Insley.

Those who missed the special classes before are especially urged to enroll at the plunge now. There will be no charge, except the regular admission. The aim is to teach everyone to swim, but the classes will also be divided according to ability, so that those who have already learned to swim may have the benefit of further instruction. It is hoped that the enrollment will equal that of the previous drive.

An indoor baseball game between the girls of Covina and Baldwin Park was the feature of the Friday afternoon program at the city park playground. The game was won by the Covina girls with a score of 19-10. Playing for the Covina side were Viola Bowers, Marsha Carter, Helen Pattillo, Lois Wagerle, Geraldine Studebaker, Marie Patty and Catherine Sailors. The Baldwin Park team was composed of Sylvia Morrow, Dorothy Daugherty, Vivian Martin, Virginia Huff, Eleanor Hays, Edred Fensler, and Pauline Schneider. A second game is to be played this Friday at 2 o'clock.

Presbyterians Announce Gift of Pipe Organ

Formal announcement is now made by authorities of the First Presbyterian church of the gift to the church of a new pipe organ. True to the Christianlike character and retiring disposition of the donor, that party's wishes are respected by not disclosing the name.

The organ is being built by the Robert Morton Organ company of Van Nuys. This company is the successor of the Murray M. Harris Organ company established in Los Angeles some thirty-seven years ago, and thruout these years has built organs for hundreds of churches all over the country and many notable concert instruments. The organ that is now the largest in the world in Wanamaker's at Philadelphia was built by this same organization, as were those of the First Presbyterian church of Pasadena, Bovard auditorium of U. S. C. of Los Angeles, Stanford university, the great organ in the Los Angeles Elks' temple, and many others.

The specifications of the First Presbyterian organ were drawn by Sibley G. Pease, who has many instruments to his credit as an organ architect. Mr. Pease is organist of the Los Angeles Elks' temple, which post he has held for the past sixteen years, and is organist and choirmaster of St. James' Episcopal church on Wilshire boulevard. He will give the dedicatory recital here early in September.

It is understood that the pastor of the church Rev. A. E. Wake, used his efforts in finding such a public-spirited person as the donor.

Citrus Growing in Argentina Will Be Told Argus Readers

J. T. Tucker, for the past year a resident of Covina, coming from Florida, where he was engaged in citrus experimental work, left yesterday for Argentina, South America, where he will be associated with a large English syndicate.

While here Mr. Tucker was employed by the Los Angeles county horticultural commission, assisting in rearing the ladybird beetle (cryptolaemus) for the control of mealy bug. He will supervise planting in Argentina, and will direct work of inspect pest and disease control.

While in Argentina, Mr. Tucker will supply articles to the Covina Argus dealing with the whole plan of citrus raising there, which should be of unusual interest to the growers in this valley.

City Widens Area of Covina Park on Western Frontage

The city trustees at their meeting Monday evening voted to purchase three and one-half lots lying directly west of the swimming pool, in Adams Park tract, to be included in the city park. This is the only available tract adjoining the park and will be a valuable addition. The American Legion, the owner of the lot lying to the north, has retained the east one-half as a site for its proposed assembly hall. The owners of the other lots were H. E. Packard, J. G. Hodges and J. L. Matthews.

This gives the park an additional frontage on Adams Park Drive East of three hundred or more feet, which will doubtless prove convenient for parking space.

TALKING PLAYS TO BE SHOWN AT GLENDORA

NEW SOUND EQUIPMENT NOW NEARLY READY FOR OPENING NIGHT

Opening Wednesday, September 4, with the Fox feature, "Follies of 1929," the Mission theater at Glendora will present its dedicatory talking picture. The program will continue for four days, the 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th.

Manager Frank of this theater now has his new talking equipment practically ready, but is taking time to get all details perfected before his formal opening. It is possible that a few short subjects will be run before that time in order to try out the sound effects.

The machine being installed is claimed to produce the best in quality, and will handle all Movietone subjects, Paramount and Fox productions.

Mr. Frank explains that he has waited until he could install the best, as cheaper equipments heretofore installed in other show houses have had the effect of being a detriment instead of helping to increase patronage. The Glendora theater is the best furnished house in the valley and has drawn patronage from a wide area, and the manager expects with the talking equipment to maintain its past reputation.

The features to be shown will be dated for the valley playhouse very shortly after their premiere runs in Los Angeles, and will be the same service as that of the Lyric at Monrovia. Features already secured are "Salute," now showing at Leow's, and "Dr. Fu Manchu," now at the Paramount.

Starting Monday, Sept. 1, will be "Four Feathers," a still picture. This feature is now running at the United Artists' theater.

Elizabeth Wilkins Dies at Glendora at Advanced Age

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilkins, widow of Rev. John Wilkins, and for the past thirty-five years a resident of this valley, entered into her last rest on Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Brunjes, in Glendora. She was 91 years old, and had been failing rapidly during the past year.

Mrs. Wilkins came here when the valley was in its early stages of development, and her family became well known and identified with the activity of the locality. Of late years she had been confined for the most of the time to her home thru illness attendant upon advanced age.

Two sons, Harold and Arthur, are dead, the former dying at the old home in England, and the latter, who was well known here, passing away here a few years ago. There are five daughters, Mrs. Rosa Clarke, Mrs. Eleanor Matthews, Mrs. Hilda Brunjes, Mrs. Alice Sherwood, and Mrs. Beatrice Murray. There are many grandchildren and great grandchildren left to mourn her.

The funeral was held yesterday (Thursday) afternoon at 4 o'clock at Holy Trinity Episcopal church, Covina, with Rev. Gould of Glendora and Rev. Kain of Covina officiating. The interment was made in Oakdale cemetery. An account in full of the life of this beloved woman will be given next week.

LODGES TO PICNIC

Members of the Oddfellow and Rebekah lodges and their families will picnic Tuesday evening at the city park. A program of music is being prepared for the evening.

PALESTINE GROWER VISITS ORCHARDS IN SAN GABRIEL VALLEY

Expert From Holy Land Guest Here of Local Packing House Manager — Praises Methods, and Makes Comparisons

Citriculture and packing house methods in the Covina district were viewed last Friday by A. Yoshpi of Palestine, under the guidance of J. G. Hodges, manager of the Golden Orange Groves. Mr. Yoshpi, a grower whose fruit last season took the grand sweepstakes in the Palestine orange show, is also a director of the Jaffa Fruit company. His visit to southern California is for the purpose of seeing first hand the best in methods and cultural practices, and also to look into the possibility of walnuts being made one of the major crops in his country. He spent the day with Mr. Hodges and visited five groves near here.

Mr. Yoshpi was especially taken with the modernity of the southern California packing methods, the equipment of the Golden Orange Grove plant, and with the thoroness of general cultural practices. Especially was he impressed with the thot given to preparing the fruit for market in this country, as shown in the care given to grading and packing.

Comparing the various features of culture and other factors between the citrus districts of southern California and those of Palestine, Mr. Yoshpi explained that in the latter country the trees are smaller and planted more closely together, with about 240 to the unit, which would roughly correspond to the United States acre.

The bulk of the growth is grapefruit and oranges, with the packing and shipping season similar to that of Florida. The fruit is sold principally in the markets of Great Britain, with shipments made in boxes larger than those of the United States, and carrying about 80 pounds of product.

The equipment of the Palestine packinghouses, Mr. Yoshpi said, was similar to that used in southern California, except that it was not quite so complete.

Active work is being done at all times, however, to bring the groves and all methods up to a sharp standard, to produce a product which will have its definite place in any market. Mr. Yoshpi's visit to this country is but one of the many investigative movements kept under way thus to keep advised of improvements.

Ashton-Miller Wedding Told at Bridge Luncheon

As a culmination to various rumors, Mrs. Fred Ashtou, nee Miss Clarice Miller, announced her marriage to Mr. Fred Ashton at a charming bridge luncheon given in the patio of La Ramada inn in San Marino last Saturday morning to a group of thirty-four of her young lady friends from Whittier, Los Angeles, Redlands, and Covina. Each table had as its centerpiece a small potted cactus. The wedding was announced on a slip of paper, containing the names and date, which was concealed in a small heart attached to the place cards. After the luncheon, bridge was played as a diversion, Miss Margaret Christiansen of Long Beach taking high score, Miss Isabel McKenzie of Whittier second, and Miss Elisabeth Clark of Covina winning the consolation.

Miss Clarice Virginia Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Miller, Puente street, and Mr. Fred Ashton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ashton of Puente street, were married on April fifth, slipping away to a neighboring state so they might more easily keep their secret. The romance is a childhood one, lasting all thru their high school days, culminating in their marriage during their third year of college. They both graduated from Covina high school, where they held many responsible offices, in 1926. Clarice then attended the University of Redlands for two years, last year transferring to Whittier, where Fred has attended college since graduation.

The couple are spending the week in the San Bernardino mountains, after which they will live in Whittier for the coming year. Both of them will finish their course this year at Whittier college, where Fred will be president o fthe student body, and Clarice holding the position of president of the associated women students. Clarice is a member of the Alpha Theta Phi sorority of Redlands and the Metaphonian society at Whittier, while Fred is a member of the Franklin society at Whittier.

Among the guests at the luncheon, those from Covina were Mrs. Oscar Miller, Mrs. J. E. Ashton, Mrs. Sidney Ashton, Mrs. Gladys Ashton Baker, and the Misses Norma Miller, Margaret Gordon, Jennie Goodrich, Elisabeth Clark, Anna Daniels, and Frances Deeter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Comstock and daughter, Catherine, of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porter of Eagle Rock were guests Wednesday and over night of Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Hull of College street.

Season Closes at Jenks Lake for 33 School Girls

Tuesday marked the close of the girls' camps at Jenks lake. Thirty-three grammar school girls returned to their homes in towns of the valley.

Jenks lake is located in the San Bernardino mountains and is reached by the Mill creek and Barstow Flats roads. The camp just closed had the unusual experience of rainy weather. Showers came up regularly each day about noon and cleared away by sunset. Each evening was spent around a cozy campfire with games, songs and other entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. MacDonald of Azusa have been in charge of the camp ever since its start. Miss Grace Austin of Covina was director of the girls' camp.

This is the fifth year of girls' camps at Jenks lake. The season has been successful and plans are already being made for a similar camp next year.

New Auto Insurance Law Not Compulsory Measure

There is no law in California requiring a motorist to secure public liability, property damage or any other type of insurance on his car.

This was the substance of a bulletin issued this week by the division of motor vehicles in response to numerous inquiries concerning the effect of insurance provisions of the new motor vehicle act, effective August 14th.

Only in the event any person fails to satisfy judgment rendered against him by a court of competent jurisdiction for damages involving injuries or death or property damage is insurance required, the bulletin explained.

In the event of the failure to satisfy such a judgment within fifteen days after it becomes final, the division is required to revoke the operator's or chauffeur's license and registration certificates of the person involved.

Thereafter, before the licenses and certificates may be restored, the person involved is required to pay the judgment and to secure public liability insurance to the amount of $5,000 for one person killed or injured and $10,000 for two and $1,000 property damage, or to post a surety or personal bond or a cash deposit amounting to $11,000.

This is not compulsory insurance as the term is known ordinarily, the bulletin explained, inasmuch as it effects only those persons involved in accidents who fail to satisfy judgments.

The new law emphasizes, doubly, the need of careful driving to keep out of trouble. But the carefnl driver has nothing to fear from it.

Heat in the Angel City—

There is a form of bland mendacity, diagnosed as Los Angelesitis climaticis, the germ of which has not as yet been successfully isolated.

When it was 95 and 100 degrees hot, as shown by any number of thermometers in drug stores and here and there everywhere on the downtown streets of Los Angeles, the newspapers each day solemnly admitted that it was 85 and 87, and hurried on to tell of the heat at Yuma and El Centro. So far as is known, no newspaper account of the heat in Los Angeles has ever admitted 95, with one historic exception. This occurred when a young lady reporter, new to the city, was dispatched to the weather bureau one very hot day, and not being able to attract the attention of anyone around that office, read the thermometers herself, wrote her story, and it got into the paper because the watchfulness of the copy readers had been impaired by the heat wave.

The city of Los Angeles is in the same predicament as was the famous little boy who kept his finger in the hole in the dike to prevent all Holland from being washed away. Eternal vigilance must be exercised, or some day correct temperatures will be broadcast.

Individually, these guardians of Los Angeles virtue would be cooler and more at peace with the world if they would quit making these quick and nervous calculations downward every time the mercury begins to soar. Get a good thermometer, and believe what it says, and forget it.

Professional Flag-Wavers—

Patriotism is like a woman's virtue. Either it is, or it isn't. There is no such thing as compulsory patriotism. It cannot be qualified in any way. Much educational work and inspired leadership can bring about patriotism. But it is not made with a big stick.

The American Legion has always felt this to be true. That's why any suggestion from that organization concerning patriotic action on the part of citizens has been a suggestion only. Ex-service men do not believe that they have any mortgage on patriotism, nor that it has been turned over into their keeping. Ex-service organizations are constantly asked to participate in some drive for this, that or other, under the guise of patriotism, and have refused believing that patriotism is an individual virtue that comes from within a citizen's own heart, thru natural impulse plus education. The men who have served are willing to help educate, but not to practice coercion. We have the professional flag-waver with us at all times. But this country belongs to every citizen in it and of it, not to any group, and the test of a man's loyalty is not how quick he will doff his hat as the flag goes by, but how far he will follow it when it is in danger.

Life in Abundance—

Monarchs of the old world listened with rapt attention to the tales of the explorers they had sent out to find a new world. They shared, in a vicarious way, in the thrills and in the perils that were recited, leading naturally to more or less unconscious amplification, for it is well known that any chronicle of adventure can be induced to grow and expand under sympathetic treatment.

Today, we possess thousands upon thousands of adventurers, who brave tire trouble and balky carburetors in penetrating the (to them) unknown regions that lie along the ribbon-like roadways of modern America. And their tales, brot home to the Kiwanis and the Rotary clubs, have that same allure that was invoked by the utterances of Raleigh and Columbus, but the difference is that we are not content to participate vicariously. We get into the car and go, and return with a new store of marvels, until of amateur travelogues there is no end.

But it is borne in more and more each year that the zone of the open road is widening. We hear each day of some new highway in the northwest, of completed links that make for asphalt driving from Vancouver to San Diego, of concrete highways that penetrate to the heart of the redwood country, of roads that run smoothly thru the once-hidden wonders of Utah canyons, of new and modern trails to the heart of the Sierras.

The child learns geography from the seat of an automobile these days, and not from a chart smelling of chalk. Our marvelous country from coast to coast is coming to be accessible, inviting, intimate. Once it was that civilization was huddled around harbors, for that was our only transportation —the sea. Then we penetrated the interior with a few rail lines. Today we go anywhere and everywhere at will, and it must be that life is fuller and richer. At least we hope it will be to the next generation, who may learn how to love life, something that many of us have missed.

One of the great religious teachers of all time said: "I come that ye may have life more abundantly." And perhaps His teaching and its application has had much to do with perfecting our civilization, drawing it into the better paths, until today, we are beginning to enjoy something of that abundant life—freedom of the body, that leads, when rightly used, to the freedom of the soul.

Pajamas for Street Wear—

A North Carolina editor appeared on the streets of his home city in pajamas, and was arrested; went to New York city, walked the streets in pajamas, and was introduced to the mayor, filmed, snapshotted, and got a column of publicity in every newspaper in that region.

Years ago, Dr. Rowell, father of Chester Rowell of the Fresno Republican, introduced Palm Beach suits, open-work sandal shoes and shirts without a collar or sleeves. Altho Fresno is one of the hottest places in California in the summer, relentlessly pounding the pulse of all warm-blooded animals night and day for months at a stretch, the miserable inhabitants continued to show up at their offices and places of business in the conventional starched "dickie" collar, tight shoes and woolen suits. A business man was a dare-devil who would remove his coat and reveal his suspenders during office hours. Dr. Rowell said that such styles cast a grave reflection on the mental status of the male human being.

Gradually, and furtively, the human male has partly imancipated himself from some of the old-time summer tortures, but he still is a pitiful slave to custom. It seems strange that there should be a question about any man's right to appear on the street in a light linen or cotton two-piece suit, which is what pajamas really are. For days on end, such a costume would be sensible and healthful in Covina, and anywhere in southern California. We should really wear pajamas in the daytime, and heavier clothing in bed in southern California if we are to be comfortable.

The women have broken their bonds of slavery. The corset business is in a desperate state; brassieres are not any longer best sellers; the word petticoat must be translated to the flapper; stockings are held up in place by a most miraculous twisting of the tops together, so that garters are probably to go the way of the corset. Many women dress in three filmy garments, a dress and a two-piece undergarment, stockings and shoes, and that's all—sometimes the stockings are discarded.

We hesitate to praise this fashion of dressing, for the sole reason that if women discover men like that mode of dress, they will proceed to change it to something else. Women have always had an instinctive suspicion of man's ability to dictate dress, unless the man happens to be a designer of Parisian styles. Therefore, we'll not praise their good judgment, but return to a melancholy reflection upon the stupidity of man's dress, than which there is no greater stupidity to be found in all the civilized world.

Early Days in Covina

TEN YEARS AGO

An orange ranch that brings him over $1000 per acre for the fruit this year is a piece of property that has been developed by R. A. Welch. The trees are nine and ten years old. The crop this year has amounted to 17 carloads, bringing over $22,000.

Principal Ben S. Millikan, working with the members of the board of trustees of the Covina grammar school district, is working towards the laying of the cornerstone for the new building. It is expected that the contractors will be ready for the event in about three weeks.

Sergeant Oscar A. Lindahl arrived home yesterday. He was discharged at the Presidio, after 22 months of service, of which 15 months were spent in France. Sergeant Lindahl participated in the Marne offensive, the battle of the Vesle river, the battle of St. Mihiel, and the great Meuse-Argonne offensive that ended the war. He received only one slight wound, a scratch on the arm from a piece of shrapnel. He wears four gold stars for his participation in the four battles and a silver star is the citation received by every member of the brigade in the famous Marne offensive.

Donald McIntosh has been selected to have charge of the athletics at the high school. McIntosh spent 18 months at the front, in the ambulance corps, bringing in the wounded from Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, Vesle river, and Argonne forest. The service awarded him four stars.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

W. Chase has purchased the interest of J. W. Rice in the Stowell Spraying company of Charter Oak. Mr. Chase was formerly field agent.

The orange market continues steady, with the supply of valencias regulated to meet the demand. Good orchard run stock is selling from $3.50 to $3.75 delivered in the east. A few f.o.b. sales are made, packers asking from $2.50 to $2.65 for good valencias, orchard run.

Today is the hottest of the year, the thermometer at noon standing at 108. Shortly afternoon heavy rain fell, preceded by wind which whipped the pepper trees like willow twigs.

The editor is indebted to his friend, T. E. Finch, for an enjoyable run to El Monte on Wednesday afternoon in his new automobile. Tom is a skillful chauffeur and can give many an older hand points on how to run a machine.

Lester Crouse, a youngster, broke his arm Wednesday evening by falling off the fence surrounding his home on San Bernardino road.

Frank Chapman, oldest son of Col. and Mrs. F. M. Chapman, left yesterday with the seventh regiment to go into camp for two weeks at Atascadero with the United States army.

Ezra Ulrey, well known to many of our citizens, has been dangerously sick at his home in Glendale.

THERE IS NO OTHER ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR

THE only all-steel refrigerators in the world . . . these rugged General Electrics. Built of sheets of steel—as strong and long-lived as a safe. They cannot warp because steel cannot warp. Their doors will never sag. Their latch and hinges will never loosen—they are bolted right into the steel.

Because their doors always fit so tightly and because of specially effective insulation, these refrigerators actually maintain perfect temperature (always safely below the 50 degree danger point) on the least possible current. Heat cannot leak in and cold cannot seep out . . . and that is the secret of economical refrigeration.

Just as an all-steel cabinet is superior to other types, so is the hermetically sealed mechanism of the General Electric in a class of its own. It is dust-proof and worry-free. Operation is extremely quiet. It never needs oiling. It has an accessible temperature control. As evidence of guaranteed reliability—there are now more than 300,000 users and not one has spent a single dollar for repairs! Come and see the models, any of which can be purchased on conveniently spaced payments.

Tune in on the General Electric Hour broadcast every Saturday evening 8 to 9 Eastern Standard Time over the N. B. C. network of 42 stations.

Growers Must Decide Amount of Cultivation

Cultivation when done at the wrong time or at too frequent intervals cannot help but produce a poor physical condition of the soil. Just where to draw the line between necessary cultivation and cultivation which is detrimental is a point for every grower to decide, according to M. H. Kimball, assistant farm adviser.

The fact that excessive cultivation or cultivation on ground which is too wet will cause a hard layer to form has long been known. "It has been thot that additional cultivation would then become necessary to break the hard layer. Heavier tools and deeper tillage have frequently been used. The result has been the formation of a hard layer still deeper in the ground." Such a layer, commenly called plow sole, interferes with penetratiin of irrigation water or rainfall in the soil.

There is a cheap and effective way to break up such a hard layer, Mr. Kimball states, and that is to reduce the amount of cultivation and never to cultivate when the ground is moist enough to pack under the pressure of the tool being used. Leaving furrows open with no cultivating between irrigations during the summer is the best way to overcome such a hard layer. Hundreds of growers are now using this practice and almost without exception testify to the beneficial results derived.

On September 7, walnut growers of southern California will have an opportunity of seeing the results of two year's reduced cultivation on a walnut grove. Formerly this grove was cultivated after every irrigation. A hard layer preventing penetration of over three or four acre inches of water per irrigation had been developed. After two years of non-cultivation there is no limit to the amount of water which can now be applied. The hard layer has almost entirely disappeared and the soil is friable and loose. This demonstration will be very interesting and will be a part of the field program of the Walnut Growers' field day to be held at Puente, Saturday, September 7. The meeting will start at 10 o'clock at La Puente Walnut Growers' association. All who are interested in this problem of soil management should be present.

Bride-to-Be Honored at Bridge-Luncheon

Mrs. Grant Chapman entertained Thursday with a delightfully appointed luncheon and bridge party complimenting Miss Mary Richard, whose marriage to Mr. Ardin Hotchkiss will occur September third. The affair was held at the beautiful Chapman hotel in the Wilshire district, where covers were laid for Miss Richard, her mother, Mrs. L. Richard, Miss Arlene Hotchkiss, Miss Peggy Nye, Mrs. F. H. Richard, Mrs. D. D. Bronson, Mrs. C. H. Keyes of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Norman E. Hume of Pasadena. The tables were lovely in pink and white, the bridal motif predominating.

Miss Richard was also entertained Wednesday and Thursday by Mrs. E. J. Summerhays at Santa Monica. Wednesday evening Mrs. Summerhays, Miss Richard and Miss Peggy Nye, who was also a guest of Mrs. Summerhays, attended "The First Year" at El Capitan theater in Hollywood. Thursday Mrs. Summerhays planned a beach party with luncheon at the Santa Monica Athletic club.

Tuesday of this week Miss Richard and her mother, Mrs. L. Ralph Richard, were luncheon guests of Mrs. Hal Cook of West Badillo street.

STOWELLS AT NEWPORT

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Stowell will remain indefinitely at Newport Beach, where they went last June for Mr. Stowell's health. Altho Mr. Stowell is much improved, it seems advisable to remain there for the present. They will be glad to welcome any of their friends at their home. During their stay at the beach Mrs. Stowell's father and sister, Mr. J. N. Raymore and Miss Raymore, will occupy their home in Charter Oak.

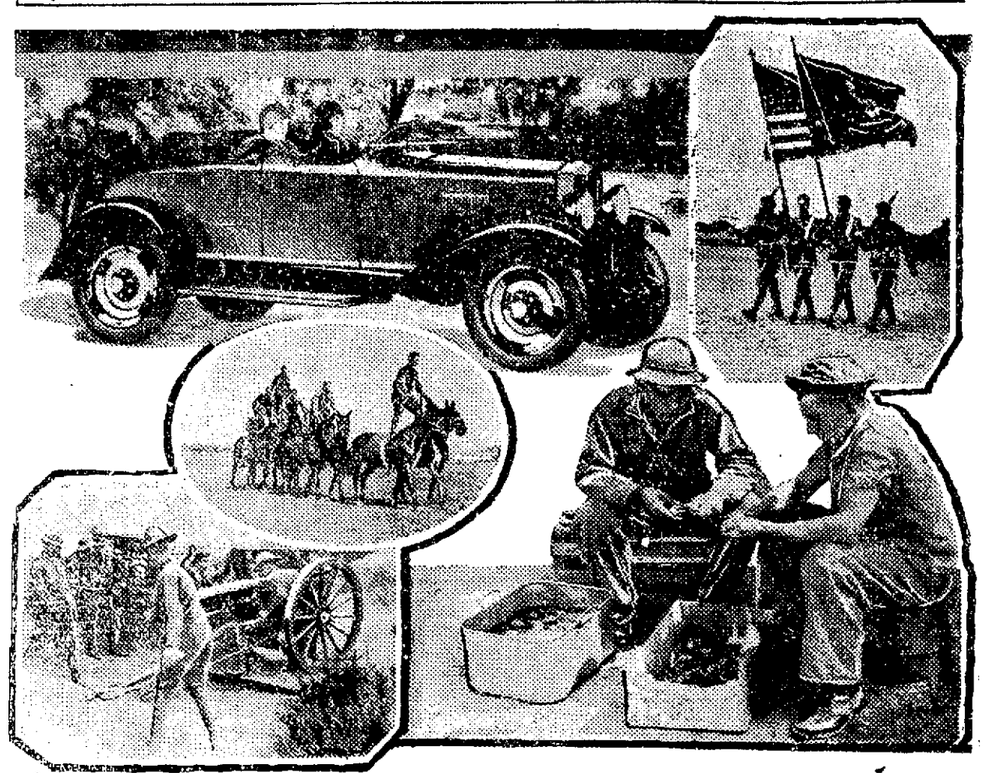
Better Citizens Made By Training Camp



Scattered throughout the United States are the Citizens' Military Training Camps, where young men are schooled to be better citizens. The territory of the Ninth Corps Area, which comprises the western states, has its share of these camps. On visitors' day recently two young misses in a Chevrolet sedan watched the young men go through their maneuvers.

Business Good in United States, Rail Men Say

Business thruout the country is in satisfactory condition and the railroads are looking forward to increased activity in many lines, according to George W. Wetherby, district passenger agent for Southern Pacific, who has returned from the company's annual advertising conference of general and district agents, just concluded in San Francisco.

"The outlook is particularly bright in Pacific coast states," said Wetherby. "The west supplies a large proportion of the nation's fresh fruits, vegetables, lumber and minerals and in turn buys largely of the products manufactured in other sections of the country.

"While some of the fruit crops are below normal yield, prices are good and money is plentiful. Lettuce and other fresh vegetables are produced in greater quantities each year and demand is keeping pace with the supply. A record crop of citrus fruits will be harvested and shipped this year.

"Tourist travel to the Pacific coast will show a substantial increase over 1928, according to figures already compiled and estimates for the remainder of 1929 based on the ratio of increase to date.

"The outlook for winter visitors to southern California is particularly encouraging due to an intensive advertising campaign conducted by our company thruout the east.

"Southern Pacific will continue its national advertising campaign which in 1928 was instrumental in attracting many tourists and settlers to the Pacific coast. In advertising the regions served by its lines the company is spending about $1,300,000 annually.

"Last year Southern Pacific spent $211,476,948 for wages, materials and supplies, in addition to $21,525,425 for taxes. Expenditures of huge sums, year after year, has made the company one of the principal factors in promoting the growth and prosperity of the states in which it operates."

Lark Ellen Teacher Back From Arizona

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bailey returned Friday evening to their home on Valencia Place after having spent nine weeks at Flagstaff, Arizona, where both Mr. Bailey, who is the principal of the Lark Ellen school, and his wife took the nine-weeks' summer course at the state university.

While in Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey were able to make many interesting trips, visiting the Grand canyon, the petrified forests, Painted desert, and the homes of the cliff dwellers.

On one occasion about a month ago Mr. and Mrs. Bailey enjoyed a snow storm on the top of San Francisco peak, at an elevation of 13,000 feet. About a foot of snow covered the running boards of the car.

LEEBRICK AT BALDWIN PARK

Sam Leebrick, well known in automobile circles of the the valley, and for a number of years a resident of Covina, has leased the repair department of the Brooks garage at Baldwin Park. Mr. Leebrick and his family have been living at Baldwin Park for some time, while Sam has been connected with the Oakland and Pontiac agencies at Alhambra and at El Monte.

NEPHEW OF LINCOLN ENTERS BUSINESS HERE

John McBride, who has been a resident of Covina for over a year, has this week leased the Tower service station, corner of Citrus and Section Center. Mr. McBride has the distinction of being a nephew of Abraham Lincoln on his father's side.

AZUSA MAN DISCOVERS BLACK WIDOW SPIDERS

Jack McCauley, a special employee under Flood Control Engineer E. C. Eaton, reports a scourge of "Black Widows" located about the premises of his home at 633 Vista, Azusa. Some of these are of unusual size, and are multiplying by hundreds. Mr. McCauley is a specialist on formation and geological work, and has done much writing for magazines in the way of feature and scientific articles, founded on his work and experiences while here. He has recently sold one on the subject, "The Salvaging of Our Forests," to Colliers, and is engaged on the photographic work to accompany it.

Valley Towns Give Praise to Covina Park

An editorial in the Glendora Gleaner says:

Covina is teaching valley towns the value of a city park. We were reminded of this recently when the newspaper men of the valley gathered there in a picnic and business meeting. There were about forty in the party, including the wives of the editors, and the meeting was a most pleasant one.

Tables are furnished and a large cooking range has been installed so that picnickers can cook or warm up food brot, and make their coffee. All the service is furnished free and parties are found almost every night of the week gathered there. It is probable that the park brings no direct returns to the city, but it must bring indirect returns in the good will created, which brings the city into favor among visitors. Glendora has a beautiful little park with needed appliances for small picnics, yet it does not seem to attract even our own people. Those who do use it are pleased, as it contains shade and a cooking range, with running water all furnished free. Let us use our own park and there will be a more determined effort to get a larger one.

Rev. Wake to Speak at Union Services

The union church services being held at the city park each Sunday evening at the vesper hour have been splendidly attended on each occasion. There is a good program of music prepared, the talent coming from the best of the town, and the sermons given by the pastors of the various churches in rotation.

Sunday evening the address will be given by Rev. A. E. Wake of the Presbyterian church. Rev. Wake has just returned from an auto trip thru the east and will have an interesting account of his travels.

Visitor Arrives Here in Fokker Plane

Taking a Fokker airplane from West Virginia to Portland, Captain C. B. Stead stopped en route to visit his mother, Mrs. S. M. Stead of East Badillo street, and his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stead of East College street, Monday evening. Captain Stead will use this plane in his route for the Western Air Express company. He left early Tuesday morning, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stead, who went with him as far as San Farncisco, returning Wednesday by boat.

ON TRIP TO SIERRA NEVADA

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Wheat and son, Stanley, of East College street, leave tomorrow on a trip thru the Sierra Nevada, stopping at June and Silver lakes and also visiting other scenic points, and returning by way of Tioga pass and Yosemite valley. They plan to return early in September.

Big Percentage of Thefts Traced to "Joy-Riders"

Reports received by the division of motor vehicles show a total of 12,216 motor vehicles, reported stolen, were recovered during the first seven months of 1929, it was announced at Sacramento this week.

These reports, it was stated, indicate that less than five per cent of the cars stolen disappear for good. More than 90 per cent of the thefts are traced to "joy-riders" anxious to borrow a car for a few hours and operate it until the gas gives out.

The division's records, compiled from reports sent in by police, insurance companies, theft bureaus and automobile clubs, show conclusively that it is necessary for the person whose car has been stolen to notify the police at once.

The division's procedure is to put a "stop card" against the record of any vehicle reported stolen as soon as notified. This prevents the illegal transfer of the vehicle and often results in the actual apprehension of the thief. If, however, the owner does not notify the authorities at once, it is often impossible to stop the transfer.

For the same reason, the division urges all out-of-state motorists to secure visitors permits as soon as they enter the state. This gives the division a record of the license, motor and serial numbers, information valuable in case of theft and likely to require from one to two weeks to obtain if it becomes necessary to write to the visitor's home state.

The division urges all California motorists to memorize their license numbers so that they may notify the police immediately in case of theft.

The division urges also that car owners protect themselves by removing their keys and locking the doors upon leaving their cars. If parking at night, cars should be left on well lighted streets only.

Manila Residents Are Guests Here

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hall and daughters, Catherine and Ellen, of Manila, were guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Werden and Shirley Werden. Mr. Hall, who has represented the Honolulu Iron Works on a world trip, is on his way back to the Manila office. Mrs. Hall will stop at Honolulu, for many years the home of the family. The daughters, who have studied in Europe for the past six months, will enter college in Los Angeles this fall. Shirley Werden was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hall during his stay in the Philippines while on an oriental trip a year ago.

Geo. Burall Home From Honolulu

George A. Burall, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Burall, East Badillo avenue, returned last Saturday from a year and a half in Honolulu, in the Schofield barracks located there. He came home aboard the St. Mihiel, landing in San Francisco, where he remained at Fort McDowell for two weeks, awaiting his discharge. He is spending the rest of this month at Hermosa Beach with his family.

Lions Hold Dance in Covina Park

The Covina Lions club dance, held on the tennis court at the city park last Saturday evening, was well attended and proved to be an enjoyable affair. The music was furnished by Dick Avard and his orchestra of eight pieces. Avard, who is well known in Covina, expects to leave on a Dollar liner steamship soon with his orchestra. The next dance will be given Saturday evening, September 7th.

Incubators in Use in Egypt Ancient Models

The incubator for hatching chickens is probably as old as history, which in the Mediterranean region runs back more than 4,500 years. There were, doubtless, incubators in Egypt before Moses was born, and to this day in that country they are just what they were in the lifetime of the great Hebrew leader.

The art of hatching chickens is handed down from generation to generation, from father to son, a secret craft. Baby chicks are an important article of trade, and they are produced by millions for rearing.

The typical Egyptian incubator is a rude and cumbersome affair when compared with the modern device. It is a building of considerable size, of sundried brick. Through it run one or more passages, and on both sides of each passage are ovens (so to call them) in two tiers. The oven at the ground level has a small door; the one directly above it entered from beneath through a manhole. The ovens are arranged in pairs, one below and the other above. The eggs are placed in the lower oven, and a fire is lighted on the floor of the oven overhead, to furnish the warmth requisite for hatching. —San Francisco Chronicle.

Moon and the Weather in No Way Connected

Curiously persistent are the various superstitions relating to the effect of the moon on the weather or on the farm crops. One of the most unreasonable of these beliefs, says the weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture, is that if the horns of the new crescent moon tip downward, it is a "wet" moon, portending rain.

As a matter of fact, on any given date the position of the crescent moon is always the same in places having the same latitude, so the same kind of weather would necessarily prevail, were this sign of any value, throughout a belt of latitude extending around the globe. Again, near the equator, in a part of the world notorious for its heavy rainfall, the young moon is generally in an almost horizontal position, or, according to the proverb, it is always a "dry" moon. If the moon could be viewed from the North or South pole, on the other hand, its position would be, for the superstitious, indicative of "wet" weather, but these regions are characterized by so little rainfall and snow that they rank among the arid parts of the globe.

Phrase Often Misapplied

Probably the majority of people who see the phrase "of that ilk" are ignorant of the real meaning of "ilk." It does not properly mean kind, set, family or race, as often supposed. "Ilk" is from the Anglo-Saxon "ile," and means identical or same. In Scotch "of that ilk" denotes that a person's surname is the same as the name of his estate. "Knockwinnock of that ilk" means simply "Knockwinnock of Knockwinnock," the name of proprietor and property being identical. The improper usage of "ilk" to mean kind or sort probably originated as a joke and has been perpetuated through ignorance of the true meaning.—Exchange.

Hence as Barometer

If Cayenne pepper is added to the diet of white hens which have been hatched from carefully selected eggs, their feathers become pale rose in color, and they flush to a brilliant red when the weather is damp, and increasing humidity indicates the coming of a storm. These hens thus become veritable living barometers, and the progression of color from pale to brilliant is so exact that a scarlet hen stalking about the barnyard is regarded as certain prophecy of a storm that may be expected within 12 hours.—The Tycos, Rochester.

His Objection

It had been a tiring case for everybody concerned. The plaintiff and the defendant were both slow-witted, and everything had had to be explained to them at least twice.

"Do I understand, my man," said the magistrate at one point, "that the defendant hurled invectives at you?"

The plaintiff scratched his head wildly. Then a look of understanding dawned in his eyes as he replied: "No, sir, to tell the truth, it was only bricks he threw at me; but what I complain about was the terrible way he swore at me when they missed!"

Beauty Made by Dust

Dust and sand contribute to the beauty of the skies. Infinitesimally short waves of sunlight would pour down merely as white light, but for the diminutive dust motes that get in the way and sift out the component colors, from violet to red. And even when the colors are brought into existence they would stream on through the atmosphere and into space if the all but invisible water droplets did not huddle together and hold them for the world to see.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

The Limit

Judge—If, as you admit, you were three miles away digging potatoes when this man was arrested for speeding, how can you testify that the car was going at the most only 20 miles an hour?

Sambo—Jedge, Ah used to own dat caah!

In a Nutshell

Associate reverently, and as much as you can, with your loftiest thoughts.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

We do not believe in the maxim that "opportunity knocks but once."

But we do believe this: The man who does not accumulate a little money is never able to grasp opportunities though they might come every week.

A systematic method of saving is the surest means of preparing for business or other opportunities.

THE New BUICK

The Greatest success in all Buick history

More people have purchased New Buicks during the past two weeks than in any similar period of any previous year

The New Buick with Body by Fisher has met with a veritable landslide of public demand. many purchased before ever seeing the car—many thousands of others placed their orders the first few days it was on display—other thousands have been taking demonstrations and then making Buick their choice.

More Buick owners have entered orders—more men and women who owned other cars have turned to Buick—more people who formerly paid from $1000 to $2000 higher for their automobiles have purchased Buicks—than ever before during a similar period in Buick's twenty-six year history.

The total demand during these two weeks is from three to five times as great as that for any other automobile priced above $1200.

Popularity so overwhelming carries an unmistakable message to every prospective motor car buyer: See the new Buick—drive it—compare it—and you'll quickly discover that it's the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in the entire quality field.

"George, dear, don't come over for a few days, at least. My father strenuously objects to you," said the golden-haired Gladys.

"On what ground does your pa object to me, I want to know," returned the indignant boy.

"Well, on almost any part of our quarter-section!"

"I want to buy a pair of shoes for my little girl."

"Yes, mam. Right this way. French kid?"

"I should say not. She is my own daughter!"

International Harvester certainly hit the nail on the head when it brought out that wonderful "Six-Speed Special. Truck for rural hauling. Pure Seed Plan to Be Developed for California

As a result of the study of pure seed organizations in western and middle-western states, made by J. Earl Coke, agricultural extension specialist in agronomy at the University of California, the reorganization of the California Pure Seed association is probable. The association in this state has not been functioning as farmers thot it should, it is said, and upon the data brot back by Coke it is planned to rebuild the setup of the organization.

After attending the meeting of the western branch of the American society, held at Washington State college, Pullman, Coke visited Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado to study the pure seed work being done in those states.

California farmers want better seed, and Coke's study was made in the hope that some of the plans adopted by other states could be made effective here, so that pure seed can be furnished at a reasonable price.

Plant improvements orgapizations, of which both farmer and seedsmen are members, have done good work in some of the states, Coke found. Generally they are supervised by the college of agriculture or the agricultural extension service. These furnish seed certified pure as to mixtures and noxious weeds, after field and bin inspections. The seed is sold in sealed bags.

County Considers Making Cement for Great Dam

A considerable saving in the price of cement for the San Gabriel dam was forecast at the Hall of Records Wednesday, when the board of supervisors asked Counsel Mattoon if the advertisement for bids for the cement opened Monday may not have been illegal.

Representatives of two cement companies that refused to offer bids Monday protested to the board that the advertisement was not legal because it specified a grade of cement as defined by the American Society for Testing Materials.

This grade of cement is subject to revision from time to time, it is said, and some cement manufacturers say they could price their product lower if specifications over the five-year period during which the dam will be building are known in advance and fixed.

Meanwhile Flood Control Engineer Eaton and Chairman McClellan of the board of supervisors are considering the possibility of building a cement mill in San Gabriel canyon near the damsite, and making cement for the dam with limestone and shale on which the county already has an option.

Unless the bids for cement are below a certain figure, it will pay the county to make its own cement, Supervisor McClellan said. The low figure of $1.72 a barrel at Azusa, and $1.40 f.o.b. mill near Riverside was bid by the Southwestern Portland Cement company.

Representatives of companies that failed to bid hinted that lower bids will be forthcoming if the supervisors change the specifications so they will not be subject to whatever fluctuations the testing material society may see fit to accept.

Legion Officer Back From Motor Trip

William ("Tex") De Barge, sergeant-at-arms of Covina post, American Legion, with his wife, returned to Covina this week, following a journey by automobile of 8800 miles, covering much of the southwest, including points in Texas and Louisiana.

Sergeant De Barge, who has spent more than half a lifetime as a regular army soldier, and who served thru the world-war on the western front, has many friends and acquaintances scattered over the southwest, and he and his wife had a very enjoyable time renewing friendships. They encountered a great deal of rain and storms on the journey, and were delayed at several points by serious floods.

Growers to Attend Laboratory Opening

Thru the cooperation of the California Citrus League, the Calavo Growers, the Whittier Exchange, and the Whittier college, a new laboratory has just been completed on the campus of the Whittier institution for the United States bureau of entomology.

This laboratory is to be dedicated on Saturday, August 31, with many experts present, and all growers are invited to attend from 10 until 3 o'clock. Covina Fruit Exchange is interested in this program, and will furnish further information.

License Renewal Time Limit Not Definitely Set

While the new state motor vehicle law cancelling all drivers' licenses issued prior to January, 1927, became effective Wednesday, August 14, a reasonable time is being allowed motorists affected to apply and take the examination for new cards.

According to regulation, motorists whose licenses are now void are expected to have applied for new cards, but due to the magniture of the task of re-issuing licenses to more than 3,000,000 autoists, an extension of time has been granted by the motor vehicle department for completion of the huge job.

Autoists who must secure new cards are advised to apply and be examined as soon as possible, for the length of the extension period allowed has not been announced. The time limit will be set by Division Chief Frank G. Snook at an early date, it is expected.
